A 20 minute discussion in groups

You don't have to take notes. Instead, each group member is expected bring something that felt important to the joint discussion afterwards.

Begin by introducing yourselves. Discuss at least two of the following questions:

1. What has helped you and given you joy, strength and peace of mind during the exceptional spring, leading you to success eg. in the admissions process? Share some experiences.
2. Through practical examples, describe some characteristics of a community that best supports and encourages you in your development. You can use your past experiences as a starting point.
3. What can you as a student do to support one another and to help in creating an ethical organizational culture that promotes learning and development?
4. What are your expectations towards the university in terms of student support, integrity and clear ethical guidelines? How can we help and support you in the best way?
